Follow Advice

- Stay home when sick

- Exclude yourself and arrange to return home if you become unwell during an activity
- Normal activity approval processes are followed, and all record all attendees
- Ensure a pre activity briefing occurs, including information about current restrictions and good practice arrangements.
- All adventurous activities are permitted if qualification and approval arrangements are in place, and the Scouting Leader responsible for the technical aspects of the adventurous activity is satisfied to do so. The use of third party providers for adventurous activities is permitted if the provider has COVID plans in place as required by the ACT Government, and Scouting activity approval arrangements have been satisfied.
- Permitted Adventurous Activities will consider any additional activity specific requirements, and detail these in activity planning and risk documentation prepared as part of the activity approval process
- In the event of an emergency standard emergency response procedures apply
- Travel within the ACT and the surrounding region is permitted. Travel further afield is permitted subject to government restrictions in place at the time, noting such restrictions can quickly change and the consequences of such changes maybe inconvenient and costly, and therefore should be part of the planning for such events. Interstate travel is not currently permitted for Scouting meetings and conferences.
